CURRICULUM CHANGES

Journalism and Mass Communications

Changes to Print and Electronic options: Merge into the Journalism and Digital Media Option with two focuses: Print and Electronic. See pages 7-9 of approval sheets.

- Change language in catalog to read:

From: Becoming a Major

Students in the A.Q. Miller School of Journalism and Mass Communications must complete the requirements of one of the school's options in journalism (~~print or electronic~~), advertising, and public relations.

To: Becoming a Major

Students in the A.Q. Miller School of Journalism and Mass Communications must complete the requirements of one of the school's options in journalism and digital media, advertising, and public relations.

RATIONALE: This reflects the proposed adoption of a new journalism and digital media sequence (which merges the old print and broadcast journalism and electronic media production sequences). The number of degree options in JMC would be reduced to three, but this degree plan does offer an option for students who are more interested in news to choose more news production courses (the journalism focus), while students who are not as interested in news would be allowed to take more non-information oriented audio and video production classes (the Electronic focus). Those actions are contained in the following proposals.

IMPACT: Faculty in Agriculture Communications have been notified and they concur with this action. (Email from Larry Erpelding on Nov. 24, 2008)

EFFECTIVE DATE: Fall 2009

Rationale: The action reflects the faculty's desire to converge electronic and print skills into one Journalism and Digital Media sequence, with this option for people who wish to specialize more on the side of newspaper and magazines production. This plan more adequately matches today's industry trends and forces students who seek more traditional print media careers to become more versatile by learning electronic production skills.
